PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

A graduate of St. Agatha School herself, Jericho Wagenbrenner begins her 15th year in education and fourth year back at St. Agatha. Jericho's credentials in education include Elementary Education Grades Pre-K-3, Reading Recovery Teacher, and Orton-Gillingham certification. An Upper Arlington Golden Apple Award winner in education, Wagenbrenner also serves St. Agatha as a Parish Lector and Eucharistic Minister. Her teaching philosophy is as follows, "As a teacher, I am a catechist and a catalyst. As a catechist I lead children to encounter Christ by my words, my actions, and my entire life. Instilling the desire to be understanding and compassionate to all and to be a witness of God's love leads children to live a rich Christian life. I employ a joyful soul, heart, and mind while sharing the magnificent news of salvation and redemption. As a catalyst, I am a spark creating the desire to learn in children, at the same time meeting them where they are and bringing them forward with intention and precision." In her free time, she enjoys running, swimming and spending time with her family. Jericho and her husband, Jeff, reside in Upper Arlington, along with their two children who also attend St. Agatha School.
