

ALISON ADAMSKY

MIDDLE SCHOOL TEACHER

Saint Agatha School

aadamsky@cducation.org

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

A graduate of the University of Cincinnati and Otterbein University, Alison Adamsky brings professional editing and writing experience to the St. Agatha's middle school classrooms. She believes that authentic writing projects help students recognize the powerful impact words and ideas can have on themselves, their peers, the school, and the community. At St. Agatha, Alison is the coordinator for the Battle of the Books team as well as the pianist for school Masses. For pleasure, she enjoys reading, playing piano, singing, walking her dog, hiking national parks, and visiting with family all over the United States. Mrs. Adamsky and her husband, John, have been parishioners at St. Agatha for 17 years and reside in Dublin with their youngest son.

EXPERIENCE

1 Year in Education

LICENSURE/CERTIFICATION

English Language Arts - Grades 7-12

Religion Certification

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Arts, English; Professional Writing Certificate, The University of Cincinnati
Education Certification, Otterbein University